Town Launches New Online Engagement Platform

Halton Hills, ON – The Town of Halton Hills invites residents to ‘join the conversation’ by signing up to use a new, online engagement platform. Letstalkhaltonhills.ca is an easy-to-use online space where the public can provide input on various projects and initiatives.

“This new platform will be used across the corporation to solicit public input,” said Mayor Bonnette. “This is the place to have the discussions and offer opinions. I invite everyone to register now and join the conversation!”

Letstalkhaltonhills.ca is intended to be the Town’s online site for exchanging ideas and providing input and will complement other forms of public engagement such as open houses or public information centres. Content on the site will change on an ongoing basis as new public engagement opportunities arise.

About the Town of Halton Hills

The Town of Halton Hills, with a population of approximately 60,000, consists of two urban centres, Georgetown and Acton, the Halton Hills Premier Gateway employment area, three hamlets – Glen Williams, Stewarttown and Norval – and several smaller settlements. Halton Hills has long been recognized for its natural beauty, active agricultural community, high quality of life and proximity to major centres, including Brampton, Mississauga and Toronto. The Town is the 2013 recipient of the National Municipal Environmental Award from the Canadian Association of Municipal Administrators and is ranked as one of the top small communities in Canada by a national magazine.
